PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy today picked Dean Rusk, head of the Rockefeller Foundation, to be his secretary of state.

Kennedy also announced at a news conference the appointment of Adlai Stevenson as ambassador to the United Nations.

And he named Rep. Chester Bowles, D-Conn., as undersecretary of state.

The three appointments were announced by the president-elect on the patio of his Atlantic shore home.

Rusk, a Democrat who served as an assistant secretary of state in the Truman administration, was at his side. Stevenson and Bowles were not present.

Kennedy offered the U.N. ambassadorship to Stevenson, the 1952 and 1956 Democratic presidential nominee, last week. But Stevenson asked for time to think.

Ceylon to Submit a Compromise

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ceylon planned to lay a compromise peace plan for the Congo before the U.N. Security Council today.

Sir Claude Corea, the Ceylonese delegate, worked during the weekend in an attempt to find a middle ground for the Soviet bloc and West to deal jointly with the African crisis.

Diplomats connected with the 11-nation council said whatever resolution Corea might produce was the only hope for council action.

They predicted that rival Soviet and Western resolutions introduced earlier would fail when put to the vote tonight or Tuesday.

The council was expected to reject the Soviet resolution calling for the release of deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba, the disarming of Col. Joseph Mobutu's Congolese army and the withdrawal of all Belgian personnel from the Congo.

The Soviet Union was expected to veto the rival resolution sponsored by the United States, Britain, Italy and Argentina upholding human rights for all Congolese prisoners, expressing hope for Red Cross measures for their welfare and asking secretary-general Dag Hammarskjold to continue efforts for law and order in the Congo.

Corea has already told the council he aimed to propose that it (1) give Hammarskjold more power to keep order, (2) direct the U.N. force in the Congo to disarm illegal private armies, (3) call for Belgian withdrawal, (4) seek the release of all imprisoned Congolese political leaders and (5) promote a roundtable conference of these leaders and a new Parliament session.

The Ceylonese delegate, after sounding out the rival factions, told a reporter he was "quite prepared to modify" his prospective plan to get support.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today set aside the second degree murder conviction and eight-year prison sentence of Mrs. Virginia Rand of Rogers.

Mrs. Rand was convicted of the fatal shooting of Harry V. Clark of Rogers in the bedroom of her home Aug. 9, 1959.

The Supreme Court said some improper evidence was admitted at her trial.

Washington Churches Plan Pageant

The churches of Washington will present a Christmas Pageant, "Unto the Day Dawns," as their community-wide observance of the Christmas season.

The Pageant will be presented at Washington Baptist Church Wednesday night, December 14, at 7:30 o'clock, under the direction of Mrs. Amy Ball, of Nashville, with Mrs. G. W. Merrick at the organ. Four churches are co-sponsoring the Pageant, the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian Churches of Washington, and the Presbyterian Church of Nashville.

The Pageant will be presented at Nashville in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday, December 11, at 5 o'clock.

Characters chosen from the four churches are as follows: Abraham, Moss Rowe; Moses, Rev. J. W. Hickman; King David, J. N. Mann; Scribe, Fred Norwood; Gabriel, Larry Keel; Mary, Mrs. Robert Child; Joseph, Robert Child; The Shepherds, Joe D. Scott, D. B. Scott, Johnny Wilson; The Wise Men, H. L. (Dub) Pingar, Jewell Parsons, Joe C. Booker.

The Reader for both presentations will be Jamie Boyette; Promoters, Mrs. W. H. Elder and Miss Mary Margaret Haynes; Lighting by J. M. May; Programs, W. H. Elder.

The Pageant will be supported by an Angelic Choir of young people with choruses, augmented by adult voices. Solo and duet parts will be carried by Mrs. J. W. Hickman, Mrs. Amy Ball and Mrs. W. B. Veercamp.

4th Traffic Fatality in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A 37-year-old Memphis woman who drove her car off the highway after she was blinded by the lights of an approaching car became the state's fourth traffic fatality of the week ended at midnight Sunday.

One person was drowned and one died of injuries received in a fall from a horse earlier as only six persons died violently during the week.

Mrs. Edith V. Murphy, driving back to Memphis after visiting a sister in Trumann, was thrown from her car after it veered into a stop sign at the intersection of Highways 61 and 69 in Turrell Sunday. She died en route to a Memphis hospital.

Her daughter, Lawanda Murphy, 18, and Naomi Barnes, 15, of Memphis, both passengers in the car, escaped injury. Miss Murphy said her mother cried, "Those lights are blinding me" moments before the crash.

Ronald E. Carlton, 19, a soldier stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., was killed Sunday when his car collided with a pickup truck on Highway 63 about a mile south of Mammoth Spring. The truck driver, Marcell Wencil of New Florence, Mo., was injured.

Homer Louis Waxler, 26, a Munford, Tenn., towboat company employee, was presumed drowned after he slipped from a barge into the Mississippi River near West Memphis Saturday night.

15 Deaths as Snowstorms Move Eastward

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wall Street's bulls and bears in New York and government employees in Washington, D.C., were snowed under Monday by a crippling "howler" snowstorm that knocked out transportation, closed plants and schools and kept thousands of persons from work.

The blizzard delayed the opening of the New York Stock Exchange and the American Stock Exchange in New York and closed government offices in Washington. Only those offices concerned with the nation's security were kept open. District of Columbia school children also got a day off when the schools were closed.

In New York, with transportation at a standstill, hundreds of thousands were kept from work when some highways were blocked and some commuter trains were canceled. For the first time in the memory of veteran employees, the New York Public Library had to close its main library at Five Ave. and 42nd St., as well as all its 80 branches.

At midmorning the temperature in New York was 16 degrees and the north winds were howling in gusts up to 35 miles an hour as snow continued to fall. Airports were closed and ferry boats crept across the harbor. The boats operated with skeleton crews, because many hands could not reach their jobs.

The storm, driven by high winds out of the Southwest, also battered New Jersey, Philadelphia, central Indiana, Baltimore, Kansas City, Boston and many other cities. At least 15 deaths were attributed to the storm over the weekend—four of them in Philadelphia.

The storm dumped as much as 15 inches of snow in the Philadelphia area, a foot in New York and 4.1 inches in New Jersey. Temperatures ranged from Sunday's high of 81 degrees at Miami, Fla., to 20 below zero at West Yellowstone, Mont.

The storm closed airports in the East and halted elevated trains in New York.

Several more inches of snow was expected to fall during the day. Abandoned and stalled automobiles littered streets and highways.

In Rockefeller Center in New York stalled cars and buses completely tied up east-west traffic.

In Nantucket, a Coast Guard lifeboat was stove in and sank while rescuing six men from a grounded vessel, but all hands swam ashore safely.

The Weather Bureau predicted six to 10 inches of snow in the coastal areas of southern New England, easing off to four to eight inches in southern New Hampshire and coastal Maine and less than three in Vermont.

New Jersey State Police declared a highway state of emergency and urged all nonessential traffic to keep off the roads. Police radio cars were stranded on the streets of many cities as high winds and snow continued blowing along the South Jersey shoreline below Atlantic City.

The heaviest snow of the season piled 15 inches on Preston County, W. Va., in the northeastern part.

Arkansas' Teacher Affidavit Law Voided by Supreme Court

VOIDS Delay of Integration at New Orleans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court unanimously upheld today a decision of a three-judge federal court in New Orleans which swept aside special Louisiana laws to preserve segregation.

Like the lower court, the Supreme Court bluntly rejected Louisiana's effort to block desegregation by invoking the old doctrine of interposition.

"This is a theory that the state can interpose its sovereignty between federal courts and state citizens."

The Supreme Court said this doctrine is without substance, and cited an earlier ruling to this effect in Arkansas school cases.

In refusing Louisiana's plea to hold up effectiveness of the lower court ruling to this effect in an Arkansas school case.

The nub of decision of the three-judge court is this:

"The conclusion is clear that interposition is not a constitutional doctrine. If taken seriously, it is an illegal defiance of constitutional authority."

"The main base for challenging this ruling is that the State of Louisiana has interposed itself in the field of public education over which it has exclusive control."

"This objection is without substance, as we held, upon full consideration, in Cooper v. Aaron, 358 U.S. 1, the others are likewise without merit. Accordingly, the motions for a stay are denied."

By DAVID ZINMAN

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Public school integration moved into its fourth week here today, and School Superintendent James P. Redmond predicted a near-complete white boycott of two elementary schools would stand firm.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis forged ahead with Louisiana's anti-integration battle. He called the legislature into its third straight special session. The new 30-day meeting will start Saturday.

"Think," Dr. Redmond said, "there are about as many white students in William Frantz School as we're going to see in there for a while. I think the boycott will hold pretty well this week."

White attendance rose to a peak of 23 at William Frantz last Tuesday, but slipped back to eight by Friday. No whites now attend McDonogh 19 school.

Four Negro first-grade girls have gone to the two integrated schools since Nov. 14.

Davis' third session call contained a provision for a possible 10-cent increase in the state-wide sales tax to raise an extra $45 million annually. The money would promote private segregated schools and bolster state revenues for other purposes.

The House Sunday night passed a concurrent resolution cancelling pay for teachers at the two integrated schools—unless they quit. The New Orleans School Board immediately announced teachers would be paid "at the same time all other teachers are paid."

When the legislature withheld November paychecks of the Frantz-McDonogh teachers, an anonymous donor put up $16,000 to pay their salaries.

L. Sherman, 80, Dies Here on Saturday

Five Injured in Accident Here

A two-car accident at 1:05 p. m. Sunday at the end of South Main left five persons injured, none seriously.

Cars driven by W. M. Duckett, Jr., and Willis Brandon collided. Duckett suffered a chest injury; Mrs. Mary Duckett sustained a face and ankle injury. Brandon suffered a head injury and two passengers in his car, James and Clarence Stuart, sustained a mouth injury and facial lacerations. All were treated at local hospitals.

City Officer Moses and State Trooper Ward said Duckett's car had a blowout. Both vehicles were badly damaged.

Measure Called Too Broad by High Justices

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today struck down as too broad an Arkansas law requiring public school teachers to five years.

Justice Stewart delivered the 5-4 decision. Justice Harlan wrote a dissent in which Justices Frankfurter, Clark and Whitaker joined. Justice Frankfurter also wrote a separate dissenting opinion.

Counsel for three former Arkansas teachers told the high court the law was aimed at the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and other organizations advocating racial integration in schools.

The statute, enacted at a special session of the Arkansas Legislature in 1959, requires a new statement from each teacher annually and provides that no person may be hired as a teacher unless such a list is given to school officials.

Arkansas teachers are hired on a year-to-year basis. The law does not require dismissal of teachers, or require a school board to take any action, regardless of organizations listed in teacher affidavits.

Stewart in the majority opinion said "the unlimited and indiscriminate sweep" of the Arkansas statute brought it within the ban of earlier similar cases decided by the Supreme Court.

"The statute's comprehensive interference with associational freedom goes far beyond what might be justified in the exercise of the state's legitimate inquiry into the fitness and competency of its teachers," he said.

Justice Harlan, in dissenting from the high court's majority view, said neither of the two cases "actually presents an issue of racial discrimination."

Harlan added, "The statute on its face applies to all Arkansas teachers irrespective of race, and there is no showing that it has been discriminatorily administered."

Frankfurter said in his dissenting opinion, in which Clark, Harlan and Whitaker concurred, that he did not feel the law exceeded "the permissible range of state action limited by the 14th Amendment."

De Gaulle revised his schedule today. Instead of visiting Collo, a small city on the coast in eastern Algeria, and Philippeville, he was making trips to several military posts in the 17-Aure region. It was in this mountainous area that the Moslem rebellion against French rule in Algeria broke out six years ago.

De Gaulle spent Sunday night at Bougie and at daybreak left by car for a helicopter base at D'Ain-Arnat near Setif.

He was far from the roaring gun battles and street fights between thousands of European settlers and Moslems that raged in the streets of Algiers and Oran Sunday.

French paratroops fired on rampaging Moslems in Algiers in the bloodiest clash since the national rebellion broke out six years ago.

Before nightfall, 61 persons lay 55 Moslems, 5 Europeans and one French police officer. Four persons were killed in the Oran fighting.

Behind the long-festering outbreak of spooling hatred between right-wing European settlers and Moslems were two underground organizations—the European rightists' Front for a French Algeria (FAP), and the rebels' National Liberation Front (FLN).

Officers used tear gas to get Samuel Williams, 74, of Bakersfield, Calif., off the bus, bound from here to Fort Smith.

Curtis Histon, the driver, stopped the bus and let all the passengers out except two women who locked themselves in the bus rest room.

While officers talked to Williams, the driver opened an emergency door and released the two women.

Officers then tossed in a tear gas shell but it was a dud and Williams threw a back. A second one went off and officers went in after him.

Vernon F. Waver, 22, Leachville, Ark., hospitalized with a stab wound in the back, was reported in fair condition. James G. Humphrey, 22, of Fort Smith, Ark., was treated for a throat wound and released.

Prescott Firemen Meet

Members of the Prescott Fire Department met in the dining room of the Broadway Hotel on Tuesday for their monthly dinner and business meeting. The group was called to order by Chief Easterling. Walter Hirs gave the invocation. Oran Taylor, a new member, was present.

Three fires were reported during November, one a grass fire, and minor damage to a house owned by Thomas Dewoody. A total loss of the residence of Lonnie Harrison. Two practice drills were held during the month. Secretary Garrett read the minutes from the previous meeting which were approved.

The Christmas party was set for Tuesday, Dec. 20, at 7 p.m.
middle and north Atlantic Coast states. More snow also fell in central sections of the Dakotas and Nebraska while snow flurries peppered the upper Great Lakes region.

The intense storm centered in North Carolina and moved northeastward.
Freezing or lower temperatures were reported across most sections from the Rockies to New England. It was below zero in parts of Montana and in the teens in many northern border states.

Improved care and treatment at the Arkansas State Hospital has reduced the length of stay for patients and the number of patients, despite an annual increase in the number admitted.

Snow flurries were scattered over eastern Kentucky and Tennessee, Michigan, Wisconsin, the Dakotas and New Mexico. Rain fell in southern Florida, southern Texas and the Washington coast.
Below-zero temperature readings ranged from the higher elevations of the Rocky Mountains and the eastern Dakotas through the northern Great Lakes into northern New England, while freezing temperatures were recorded as far south as Virginia, Tennessee, northern Oklahoma and West Texas and throughout most of the Western states east of the Sierras and the Cascades.
Washington struggled to clear streets of more than seven inches of snow, an unusually heavy fall for the nation's capital. Trouble calls from stranded motorists poured into emergency road service stations at the rate of 150-200 an hour. The Washington-New York pro football game in Griffith Stadium was delayed 45 minutes while workmen cleared drifts from the playing field.
Airline traffic was at a virtual standstill in New York City, hit by more than 4 inches of snow, with up to 7 inches in suburban areas.
New Jersey's snowfall ranged from 6 to 8 inches. Newark's airport was closed.
The storm swept across the Midwest, dumping heavy snow in many areas, and sleet in some sections. Rain and sleet hit eastern sections before a cold front moved in and the precipitation changed to snow.
More than 11,000 homes in the Kansas City area were deprived of electric power as ice-laden trees snapped power lines. Many homes were without heat for 11 hours in freezing weather. At Hutchinson, in central Kansas, nearly 1,000 homes were without power. Power lines were covered with inch-thick ice. Snowfall ranged up to nine inches in parts of Kansas, five inches in Kansas City, Mo.
morning from the lower Great Lakes southward into eastern Kentucky and eastward through the

Teen-Ager Finds Ways of Old-World Hard

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:
I am 15 and a first year high school student. My parents are elderly and European. Their ways are far different from those of my friends' parents.

I have tried dozens of times to tell my mother that the most important things in life to me are friends, love and happiness. My older sister and brother tell me there is no hope of making her understand. Her idea is: work of Prescott.

Miss Hoover and Mr. Lee are graduates of Texarkana Junior College and are now students at Henderson State Teachers College where they will continue their studies.

The wedding will be solemnized Dec. 27 at 7 p.m. in the Avery Chapel Church of McCaskill. No cards will be sent.

Bardonia Garden Club Holds Christmas Luncheon

The annual Christmas luncheon of the Bardonia Garden Club of Hope was held at the Hope Country Club on December 7. A traditional Christmas tree and other seasonal decorations were seen in the clubhouse. Green cloths covered the quarter tables, which were centered with pyramids.

school and home. I have good grades in school, enjoy working around the house, and try to think of my house as "home" and be happy in it.

A few weeks ago my mother said she didn't want me when I was born and didn't seem to realize how much this hurt me. She never has mother-daughter talks with me. She embarrassed me when I came to her with questions about which everybody, including the school nurse, said she should have come to me.

This winter I fell in love with a boy my age, the first one who has ever loved me. My mom said she never wants to see a boy in this house until I am 18. She says boys want only one thing. She doesn't know about the times I've gone out with him. I hate sneaking and lying. I feel guilty, feel the love growing dirty, although I never has been.

My love for my parents is gradually dying. Please tell me where I am wrong and where I am right. —A Faithful Reader

Dear Little Faithful Reader: Few daughters find it easy to communicate with their mothers. Yours, being European, probably is over-strict. I don't condone her methods but I do understand her reasons. Whether or not she wanted you at birth, she and your father have invested time, money and love (though you may not agree) in you. Looking out for you after, one of the boys laughed at his been second nature to them. from your childhood up. Should you get into trouble they would be held responsible until you be ruined. Please tell me what to do. —Upsel

Dear Helen:

Your column has helped me many times. Now I wonder whether you can give me an idea of what to do with a flirtatious husband. The problem is getting out of hand. —C. A. M.

Dear C. A. M.: Ignore your husband's capers and cut some of your own. Keep him guessing. This may sound flippant but I'm dead serious. It's good to know that my advice has been helpful to you in the past.

Dear Helen:

One night in the trees at the park where no one usually goes, my boy friend and I were sitting talking. Some boys saw us. One asked what we were doing there. We said, "Nothing."

Next day I heard rumors about us doing things in the trees we shouldn't have. At first I thought it a big joke; now I know it isn't. I'm afraid to go uptown or show

"Ford Galaxie takes the medal for style"
"And me, I give it the medal for saving!"

BEAUTIFULLY
OF ITSELF!

1961 Ford Galaxie Club Victoria

This medal was presented by the International fashion authority, Centro per L'Alta Moda Italiana, to the 1961 Ford for functional expression of classic beauty.

They liked it in Rome... they're loving it in America! The Ford Galaxie—style leader of the year—from its smart Thunderbird roofline to the sheer elegance of its interior. Step inside. It's as plush as a palace and almost as roomy—with luxury fit for a queen. And wait till the man of the house samples its terrific Thunderbird GO, right from the Thunderbird's own engine!

Already wise buyers are saying: Why pay more for a medium-price car when you can't buy finer than a Galaxie? And here's the most wonderful news of all. Not only is the Galaxie beautiful to see and drive, it's the one fine car beautifully built to take care of itself... to cut your operating costs to rock bottom. Meet the Galaxie today. All you can lose is your heart!

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF
Lubricates Itself. You'll normally go 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications. Then a Ford Dealer lubes you (which costs about $4.00!) and you get set for another 30,000 miles.
Cleans Its Own Oil. You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.
Guards Its Own Muffler. Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminum normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.
Adjusts Its Own Brakes. New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically for the life of the lining.
Protects Its Own Body. All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath the doors.
Takes Care Of Its Own Finish. New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.
*Based on 18 minutes' service at today's national average labor costs candle berries and holly. A similar arrangement on the serving table also included Christmas candles.

After enjoying a delicious luncheon, the club played a clever game involving a candy cane. Mrs. Bill Watson was the winner. For the program Mrs. LaOron Williams played a recording, "The Littlest Angel" with narration by Loretta Young. There was a gift exchange among the 20 members and one guest, Mrs. Harry Couch.

Miss Charlotte Nann Kaggner and William Poe Are Wed

Miss Charlotte Nann Kaggner and William Poe were married November 29 in the Central Methodist Church of Fayetteville. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Edward Waggoner of Fayetteville. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Poe of Ft. Smith and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Moiser of Hope. The Rev. Harold Eggenberger performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a dress of ivory satin fashioned with a scoop neckline and long sleeves ending in lily points over the wrists. Her veil was of Belgian lace, and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Miss Sarah Smith of Fayetteville was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Ed Stevenson, Miss Jancy Taroley, and Miss Ann Ritter. Bob Dawson of Little Rock served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Ed Stevenson, Jon Suddrely, John Moore, and David Lambert.

A reception was given in the church immediately following the ceremony, after which the couple left for Ft. Monmouth, N. J., where the bridegroom is stationed with the U. S. Army.

Miss Sally Stone and Allison Bowden Exchange Vows

The Friendship Methodist Church was the setting on November 12 for the wedding of Miss Sally Stone to Allison D. Bowden. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Stone of McCaskill, and the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Hazel Bowden of Hope.

The Rev. Earl DeVaiser officiated at the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with southern smilax and baskets of white stocks. White candles provided a background for the exchange of vows, and the couple knelt on a prie dieu at the conclusion of the ceremony.

Nuptial music was played by Miss Deatoun Stone, cousin of the bride. She also accompanied Miss Delaine Bonds, niece of the bride, who sang "I Love You Truly." The tapers were lighted by little Miss Nancy Carol Ross, who wore a white net dress with a ruffled skirt.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of white lace over taffeta fashioned with a full, waist-length skirt. It had a fitted bodice with a round neckline. The long sleeves were fastened with covered buttons at the wrists. Her veil of illusion was shoulder-length and fell from a hand covered with pearls and sequins. A single strand of pearls was the bride's only jewelry. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid, baby mums, and streamers of ribbon.

Mrs. Dale Bohls served her sister as matron of honor. She wore a pale blue wool jersey dress, and her flowers were pink sweetheart roses.

Charles Garrett was the best man for the bridegroom. Ushers were Ronald Hicks and Randy Ross.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Stone wore a gray suit with black accessories. Blue printed silk was the choice of Mrs. Dowden, mother of the bridegroom. Each wore a white carnation corsage.

When the couple greeted their guests in the foyer of the church following the ceremony, the bride's book was in charge of Mrs. Earl Josler.

Out-of-town guests included Quinton Stone of Houston, Tex.; S/Sgt. and Mrs. Abner L. Watson of Little Rock; Mrs. Pauline Tynor and Mrs. Alice Garrett, both of Washington; W. S. Durbam of Washington; and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. Han- nie Brandon, Mr. and Mrs. Noel D. Carillon, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Daniels, all of Nashville.

For travel the bride wore a royal blue wool dress with black accessories. She pinned the flowers from her bridal bouquet at her shoulder. After a short trip, the couple is now at home at 801 South Main in Hope.

Bobcat Teams Take Twin Bill Over Nashville

By VINCE FOSTER
Hope Star Sports Writer

Hope made a clean sweep Saturday as the Bobcats blasted past the Nashville scrappers 62-43, and the Bobkittens ran over the Nashville Juniors 45-10.

The first quarter of the senior game was a shooting contest with Hope coming out in front 18-16. Then the Bobcat defense went to work and held the Scrappers to 7, while picking up 18 more points for Hope, making the halftime score 36-22.

At the start of the second half Coach Mitchell sent in his stall, and the Bobcats froze the ball and held the Scrappers to 9 points. In the final period, Coach Mitchell sent in word to "start making some points." The Cats kindly obliged by taking in 22 points and holding the Scrappers to 12.

High man for the Cats was Gene Robinson, again taking 15, but Eddie Fry wouldn't be denied either as he sunk 14 points, 8 of them free throws. Also breaking into the scoring column for Hope was Glen Calhoun with 11, Curtis Churchwell with 8, Larry Arnett with 6, Jeffery Powell with 4, and Big Bill Walters and Joe Duke taking 2 each. Scrapper George Jones was high for Nashville with 13.

The Bobkittens jumped off to an early first quarter lead of 18-2. Then it was Nashville's time as they narrowed the margin to 23-9 at the half. Going into the final period the Kittens led 34-16, and they had a big quarter then as they scored 11 points to Nashville's 3.

Dan Jones was again high man, and this time he dropped in 9 field goals and 3 free throws for 21 points. Mac McLarty took 11, with Masie taking 6, Sprague 5, and McDowell 2.

The Bobcats presently have a 3-1 record, and Coach Huddleston's Bobkittens have a 2-1 record. Both teams play host to Gurdon here Tuesday.

Hope Elks Minstrel Cast of 1908

The original of the picture above — a large framed photograph — was found as wreckers began demolishing the original Hotel Barlow building, 315 W. Division St., which up to the death last September of Mrs. T. E. Urrey, the owner, had been known as Urrey's Boarding House.

City Policeman R. B. Pedron found the picture hanging in a room at the old house, and N. R. Whitten brought it to The Star office, where it was copied for reproduction in the newspaper.

Identification of the picture took a deal of inquiry by the editor. As the sign in the picture declared, it was an excursion run by the local Elks Lodge, No. 1109. Ed McCorkle, son of the founder of The Star, advised that he was secretary of the lodge back in those days and he knew at least three men who were in the picture: Ed Stewart, local jeweler, who did a blackface number in the Elks Minstrel; and N. T. Jewell and R. T. White, who were vocalists.

The Star checked with Mr. Stewart, and came up with all the information. This was a picture of the Hope Elks Club Minstrel cast of 1908, and the occasion was the cast's boarding a Missouri Pacific train for Prescott where the minstrel show was to be repeated. The Hope performance was given in the building at Elm and Front Sts., now occupied by Hope Wire Products, Inc., which was then a cotton store house.

From his scrap-book Mr. Stewart produced the original souvenir program, dated Tuesday, August 11, 1908.

Interlocutor of the show was the late John D. Barlow. Going through the minstrel cast, Mr. Stewart marked the names of those who are still alive:

Stewart Wilson, of Texarkana; R. T. White, H. R. Barlow, R. M. Walker, George M. Green, F. R. Ethridge, E. P. Stewart, J. M. Garland, Roy J. Johnson, Ike Loewenberg, R. H. Gillespie, M. B. Morgan, J. H. Jones, Ed McCorkle, A. C. Ramsey, J. E. Victor, N. T. Jewell, Thomas Kinser, John C. Brown, J. D. Montgomery, Dan C. Shuptrine, Joe L. Greene, Dr. R. E. Hays.

The souvenir program carried 10 pages of advertising, the listed firms of 1908 being:

Sanders News & Drug Co., E. P. Stewart & Bros., Jewelers & Opticians; Breedlove Co., Haberdashery, W. A. Sharp's, Grocery; D. M. Finley Furniture Co., Loewenberg Mercantile Co., K.

G. McKee Hardware Co., Patterson & Co. Department Store; Model Bakery, Charles West, Prop.; Hotel Barber Shop, Hotel Barlow, Pete Gabia, Manager; Battles Drugstore; Hope National Bank, Hope Savings Bank & Trust Co.

Junior Jerry Carlton and sophomore Boyer led a second-half spurt that broke up a tie game and put Arkansas into a comfortable lead over Mississippi.

Ole Miss' Jack Waters scored six straight points in the first half to cut an Arkansas lead to 33-32 at the intermission. Then the old rivals battled furiously, with the lead changing hands five times before Carlton and Boyer got hot.

Boyer hit eight straight points and Carlton got 1 altogether in the second half, and the Hogs soon had a 59-43 edge. A late full-court press by the Rebels narrowed the margin.

Waters hit 24 for Ole Miss and Carlton led Arkansas with 23. Alan Morrison got 15, Boyer and Ronnie Garner 12 each, and Pat Foster 11. Razorback coach Glen "Rust" doesn't know when Rhoden will return to action. The senior sharpshooter was second high scorer in the conference last year. He sprained an ankle in last week's victory over North Texas.

Arkansas has won three of its four games. Only four more non-league games remain before the conference opener with Texas Jan. 4 in Austin.
